

Fishhook flea competes with native fish for prey. Go back 3 spaces.

Leaping lamprey! Jump ahead 3 spaces.

Free roll

Rival for Survival

Exotic Species in the Great Lakes

A sea lamprey hitched a ride on your boat. Take an extra turn.

Zebra mussels clogged your path. Go ahead 4 spaces.

Use the map to identify the five Great Lakes. If you name them correctly, go back 4 spaces.

FINISH

Spotted purple loosestrife. Go back 1 space.

Encountered Eurasian watermilfoil. Trade spots on the board with the person on your right.

Exact number required to arrive at the Great Lakes.

Caught an alewife. Jump back 2 spaces.

Go back 1 space for not dumping your bait water in the lake.

Sea Grant
Great Lakes Network
Developed by Pauline LeClerc,
Cathy Melke, and Owen Petrovich-
McLaughlin as part of the Exotic
Species Day Camp Education Project.

All illustrations with permission.
Illustrations provided by Dorling Kindersley, Ltd.,
The Netherlands.
Purple loosestrife and alewife drawings provided by Ohio
Sea Grant Education Program. All other illustrations provided by Bill Mearns of Natural History, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

START